

Ike Urges Freer Foreign Trade

Speaks At Chamber Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prosperity at home and freer trade abroad are major ingredients of a victory over communism, President Eisenhower told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Monday.

If the United States adheres to the principles which made it great and at the same time works to develop international trade, Eisenhower said, "we are as certain of defeating communism as we are that we are all in this hall this morning."

The President received a standing ovation before and after he delivered his informal remarks at the chamber's annual meeting in Constitution Hall.

"I feel that the aspiration of global peace is based on justice and decency and respect for others, and that it means that we must continue our prosperity at home," he said.

Other speakers painted a glowing picture of America's future—an economic era in which they predicted depressions will be obsolete, the standard of living possibly doubled and "three-car families" commonplace.

About 3,500 businessmen are attending the meeting which runs through Wednesday.

Eisenhower, plugging for the foreign trade program he has asked Congress to enact, told the delegates that in the interests of freer world trade "we must make some concessions—and some here and there will be a bit painful."

But if the program goes through and international trade is strengthened "we simply cannot lose in the struggle against communism," he said.

The Eisenhower program calls for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act with authority for the President to reduce tariffs 15 per cent during that period in return for similar trade advantages in foreign markets. It has passed the House and is being debated in the Senate.

Eugene Holman, board chairman of the Standard Oil Co. (N.J.), spoke for the administration's foreign trade program and expressed hope that it would get through Congress "without crippling amendments."

In another address to the chamber, Lester L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp., forecast that 1955 may be the auto industry's best year. He went on to predict that "by 1975 the one-car family could be in the minority—and a large proportion of families may be using three or more cars."

PROPOSE DIME TO HONOR SALK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coinage of special dimes to honor Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the anti-polio vaccine, and the March of Dimes drive was proposed Monday in a bill by Rep. Gubser (R-Calif.).

Faulkner Wins Pulitzer Literature Prize; Tennessee Williams Gets Drama Award

NEW YORK (AP)—William Faulkner's "A Fable" Monday won him his first Pulitzer Prize in literature. Tennessee Williams received his second Pulitzer drama award for "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

Faulkner, 1949 Nobel Prize winner, wrote an allegory of mummy in the trenches of the First World War.

Williams' Broadway hit deals with the dissolution of a Mississippi Delta family. He won in 1948 for "A Streetcar Named Desire."

Two other winners this year also have won the prize before.

In Louisville, Ky., Monday night, Faulkner called the award a "very fine honor. I'm surprised the book was being considered and I'm very grateful that it has received this added acclaim."

Faulkner said he will remain in Louisville for the Kentucky Derby next Saturday, covering it for a national sports magazine.

The Columbus, Ga., Ledger and Sunday Ledger-Enquirer won the 1955 prize for disinterested and meritorious public service by a newspaper. It stems from the paper's news coverage and editorial attack on corruption in neighboring Phenix City, Ala.

For the first time, local reporting awards went to two small town newspaper reporters, both in Texas.

Army's View On Cuts 'Fully Considered', Officials Tell Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top defense officials have disputed Gen. Matthew Ridgway's contention that President Eisenhower's decision to cut the Army strength an additional 75,000 men came with little warning and without due consideration of the Army's objections.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the cut was long planned and that the Army's views were "fully considered" beforehand and were rejected.

Adm. Radford To Report Today On Formosa Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House underlined its no-crisis attitude about Formosa Monday by waiting until tomorrow to receive a formal report from a top level mission just back from the scene.

President Eisenhower, in fact, took time off for a game of golf with the visiting Prime Minister of Thailand, Field Marshal P. Pibulsonggram.

Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, flew to Formosa nearly two weeks ago for talks with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other Chinese Nationalist leaders. They returned to this country Sunday.

It was announced at the time they left that they were undertaking the mission "in view of the tense situation which continues in the area."

Presumably one of the topics which they took up with Chiang was the matter of whether the United States should negotiate with the Chinese Communists on a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait. The Nationalists oppose any negotiation with the Reds.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Radford would report to Eisenhower Tuesday. He said he didn't know whether Robertson would join him.

FARM PRICES STEADY IN MONTH ENDING IN MID-APRIL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois farm prices held steady in the month ended in mid-April, the State-Federal Agriculture department reported Monday.

The all-commodity index of prices received by farmers for their products remained at 235 per cent of the 1910-14 average. The level is about 15 per cent lower than a year ago.

A $1 upswing in hog prices to $16.60 a hundredweight and a 20-cent gain in beef cattle to $18.70 a hundredweight offset declines in grain and egg prices.

Wheat fell 4 cents to $2.01 a bushel, corn a penny to $1.36 a bushel and soybeans 16 cents to $2.46 a bushel. Eggs were off 4 cents on April 15 to 31 cents a dozen.

Public School Attacks Easing, Officials Report

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Spectacular attacks on public schools apparently are giving way in most parts of the country to a sober and reasoned effort by citizens — far more often than ever before — to help school officials with their problems.

"Citizens are asking us plenty of questions all right," said one school superintendent attending a meeting of education administrators here, "but they're the kind of questions we like to get. They show a real, constructive interest."

Worth McClure, executive secretary of the American Assn. of School Administrators, who attended the AASA's three regional meetings this spring, said in an interview that sessions at which school attacks were discussed were among the poorest attended.

"This indicates," he said, "a lack of concern over this matter as contrasted to a couple of years ago, when these sessions were packed with worried men."

Among superintendents interviewed on the question of school attacks, Martin Essex, Lakewood, O., said "people know we are outnumbered four to one in the battle against world communism, and they feel an urgency in the marrow of their bones about education a foremost bulwark against communism. However, we are a long way from fear, and I think criticisms are more reasoned than they were."

The two gave this testimony at a closed session of a House Appropriations subcommittee a few days before Ridgway offered his views last February. The Wilson and Radford testimony was made public Monday, Ridgway's last Sunday.

Ridgway, who is Army chief of staff, said he was told with "little warning" last December that the Army would be cut 146,000 men by mid-1956 to 1,102,000, instead of the "new look" 1,173,000 total it had expected. He said the Army had completed its proposed budget based on the larger goal, fixed in 1953.

Ridgway said he had no chance to protest the extra cutback to the National Security Council, the nation's top strategic planning board. In their testimony, Wilson and Radford also disputed arguments that the added cutback would encourage the Chinese Communists to make stronger military moves.

They painted a picture of the Army, Navy and Air Force rapidly increasing combat power through improved weapons, particularly in the atomic and guided missile

Unions To Lend $1.25 Million To Phone Strikers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The CIO said in Washington Monday that a group of its unions has arranged to lend the CIO Communications Workers of America 1 1/4 million dollars to help its 50-day-old strike against the Southern Bell Telephone Co. in nine Southeastern states.

CIO President Walter Reuther said the loan "will enable the union to provide necessary relief and assistance to the strikers and their families."

Arrangements for the loan were announced only a few days after the CWA reported receipt of an anonymous donation of a half million dollars toward its strike fund.

There was no immediate comment from Southern Bell officials. The loan was announced shortly after Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama cited economic losses caused by the telephone and railroad strikes and said he expects to ask for legislation permitting the state to operate strike bound utilities.

At Birmingham, Southern Bell Alabama Manager W. A. Thompson said the company saw "no need for such drastic action" as the public seizure law, and "we do not think such a law would serve the public interest."

Charge Dr. Axilrod With Murder In Mrs. Moonen Death

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A grand jury Monday returned an indictment charging Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod with first degree murder in the strangling death of Mrs. Mary Moonen, 21, whose body was found in an alley here April 23.

The 49-year-old dentist has been in custody since a few hours after the body of Mrs. Moonen, an expectant mother, was found.

Detective Inspector Charles Wetherill said Dr. Axilrod had told him Mrs. Moonen had accused him of being the father of her unborn child, charging the dentist assaulted her while she was under the influence of a sedative during a visit to his office for dental work.

Dr. Axilrod has denied the accusations. The dentist is married and the father of two children. Mrs. Moonen and her soldier husband, Mathias, who returned from Korea for her funeral, are the parents of a 9-month-old daughter, Gloria.

Dr. Axilrod told Wetherill he was riding with Mrs. Moonen the night of her death. He said he "blacked out," after becoming "boiling mad" when she repeated her accusation.

The Minnesota Democrat also blasted what he called "sinister, immoral and corrupt forces" among the French in Viet Nam. He said they were "hanging on to colonialism."

Although declining to comment officially, top State Department officials were obviously highly pleased at Diem's apparent success in defeating the attempted rebellion by a group known as the Binh Xuyen. Governors Ask U.S. Give More Aid For Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors of 45 states were told Monday that a single nuclear weapon can totally devastate 80 square miles of territory. They promptly turned on the heat for more federal help in handling civil defense.

Val Peterson, Civil Defense administrator, informed the governors of the widespread devastation that can be expected from an H-bomb—a hundred times as great as that from the original atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

From Secretary of Defense Wilson, the governors got assurances that "our retaliatory possibilities are very great and we are prepared to use everything we have, if necessary, and that is a great deal."

The Civil Defense discussion ended the opening day of a two-day conference set up by President Eisenhower for top administration officials to brief the governors on problems of foreign relations, national security, highways, and health, education and welfare.

President Eisenhower told the governors Monday night he welcomes their honest differences of opinion with him—no matter how violent they may be.

The President spoke of the evolution of the American form of government and said that "if we ever lose the system" set up by the nation's earlier leaders, "we shall lose the United States as we know it."

"ADOLF II" HEADS GERMAN PARTY MAINZ, Germany (AP)—The "Party of Good Germans," headed by a manufacturer who calls himself "Adolf II," was licensed Monday to campaign in Rhineland-Palatinate state elections May 15.

State officials said party chairman Josef Unger has named candidates of his Nazi-like party in three of the state's seven electoral districts. In the federal election of 1953, Unger's party polled 638 votes.

Diem Defies Ex-Emperor: U.S. Reaffirms Support

Hints At Favoring Deposing Bao Dai

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States hinted broadly Monday it would favor deposing ex-Emperor Bao Dai as South Viet Nam's chief of state unless he abandons his efforts to overthrow Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's American-backed government.

The State Department displayed this attitude while reaffirming publicly — for the second time in four days — its support of Diem's efforts to crush a rebellion in Southern Indochina.

The department's chief press officer, Henry Suydam, refused to say whether the United States regards Bao Dai, who has been living on the French Riviera, as Viet Nam's rightful chief of state.

Suydam maintained an official silence on this point despite repeated questioning by reporters who said his refusal to comment "must be considered significant."

Only last Friday, before a backer of Bao Dai tried to oust Diem in a coup, Suydam acknowledged that Bao Dai was regarded as chief of state.

Suydam gave out a half dozen assorted "no comments" in reply to questions as to whether a change of policy had been decided on or was imminent.

Top officials commented afterwards that Suydam's news conference answers were deliberate — that the absent Bao Dai was in effect being put "on notice of good conduct." This was a warning, they said, that in any showdown the United States would choose the 41-year-old Roman Catholic Diem over Bao Dai, whom many officials regard as highly favorable to the French.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), vigorously supported the State Department's continued backing for Diem in Senate comments on the turbulent Indochina situation.

Humphrey said that in any showdown between Diem and the ex-emperor "Bao Dai must go." Humphrey said he spoke out because he wanted Diem "to know he has friends in this country who will back him up."

The Minnesota Democrat also blasted what he called "sinister, immoral and corrupt forces" among the French in Viet Nam. He said they were "hanging on to colonialism."

Fewer Polio Cases: Too Early To Give Salk Vaccine Credit

NEW YORK (AP)—Fewer children than usual have been stricken with infantile paralysis across the nation so far this year, but it's still too soon to credit anti-polio vaccinations for the decrease.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Monday latest figures showed 1,304 polio cases, compared to 1,854 at this time last year, and a five-year average at this time of 1,625.

"But you can't draw any conclusions at all at this point concerning the effect of the vaccination program," a foundation spokesman said. "It's still too early."

The foundation said it did not yet have statistics on deaths from the disease this year, but in Washington the Public Health Service said there were an estimated 230 polio deaths during January and February, compared with 210 during the same months last year.

The foundation spokesman pointed out that vaccinations began only two weeks ago, on April 16, and that it takes at least a month after vaccination before maximum protection is achieved.

In the vaccine test last year, polio cases which occurred in the first month after shots were given were entirely disregarded.

Furthermore, he said, the incubation period of polio is from a week to 10 days, meaning that a child could come down within that period with polio with which he was already infected before he got the vaccination.

The foundation spokesman said that so far approximately four million children across the country have received their first shots — out of a total of about nine million first and second graders who are to get them.

The vaccination program is further along in the Southern states than elsewhere. First vaccine shipments were sent there because the warm climate starts the polio season sooner.

Fourteen northern states, including Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin, have not yet received vaccine supplies but are expected to do so this week.

The foundation said the latest Public Health Service figures for polio cases, compiled up to April 23, show the following totals, for the east and west north central regions, for 1955, 1954 and the five-year average, in that order: east-north-central, 129 - 213-161; and west-north-central, 98-122-129.

East north central takes in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. West north central covers Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas.

SALESMAN HALTS TV ON $5 BET WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—For five dollars, soft drink salesman Norman Fennell halted operations of a television station Monday night.

He climbed the station's 248-foot transmission tower to win a $5 bet made in a bar. But when he reached the antenna's top, he froze with fear. The station had to go off the air.

George Smith, 25, a former St. here, climbed up after Fennell and coaxed him down.

While the wind howled and the sea tossed, the raft's skipper, Devere Baker, a Mormon Church elder, pleaded in vain by radio for the Coast Guard to take the raft in tow so he could make a third try.

The minute he got ashore, Baker, who wants to prove a legend of 600 B.C., looked about for a fishing boat to go after his wandering derelict, Lehi II.

But the Coast Guard took a dim view, pointing out that both the Lehi I last year in a five-day voyage and the Lehi II in three days never went anywhere except south along the coast.

Coast Guard Capt. Donald E. McKay said that landlubber Baker "just doesn't understand the sea" and twice has tried a "foolhardy" trip to find out what the Coast Guard has known all along: There is a coastal current south but "no current to the West."

"If a man wants to commit suicide, the federal government has no legal way of stopping it as far as I know," McKay added crisply. Baker wants to prove that an Israelite sect, led by a priest, Lehi, drifted on a raft out of the Persian Gulf and across the Indian ocean in 600 B.C., subsisting on what they caught in the sea.

The five men of the Lehi II couldn't catch a thing because of rough seas and had no taste for a salmon given them by the tug which towed out the raft Friday.

The Lehi II slipped out of the Golden Gate in hasty tow Friday, reportedly to escape a process server. Baker and three of his crewmen had to scramble out in a fishing boat to overtake the raft.

The hasty departure may well have been the Lehi II's undoing. Two unplugged ballast tanks on the starboard side shipped water and ruptured, dipping that side below the surface and flowing water into the cabin.

Although called a raft, the Lehi II actually was a 40-foot oddity defying typing. It had two masts and two auxiliary motors. The Coast Guard registered it as a "motor boat."

Whatever it was, it rolled and shook so much that Crawford Hartley, 19, the raft's skin diver, became violently ill.

France Joins U.S. In Backing Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem backed by army leaders and reassured of U. S. support — Monday night defied ex-Emperor Bao Dai's power to change governments.

While guns boomed in a fresh drive against rebels who challenged Diem's authority last week, a message sent by Diem and three army generals to Bao Dai's villa on the French Riviera advised him that any new government he might name would not be recognized.

A "states general," an assembly of Vietnamese provincial delegates, has been called for Wednesday by the National Revolutionary Committee with the declared purpose of approving the committee's action Saturday declaring Bao Dai deposed.

Diem learned directly from Gen. J. Lawton Collins, special envoy of President Eisenhower, that the United States still backs his conduct of the embattled South Vietnamese government in the face of local rebellion, French animosity and Bao Dai's disapproval.

In Paris French officials, who had been blaming Diem for plunging his country into civil war and clinging to a government they thought did not represent the people, joined the United States Monday in supporting the hard-fighting little Premier. Authoritative French government sources said France and the United States were now prepared to "sacrifice" Bao Dai as chief of state if his removal would produce stability.

This was in sharp contrast to French Premier Edgar Faure's summary statement last week that Diem was unequal to his task.

Whatever new turn official opinion in Paris may have taken, it apparently had not trickled down to French representatives in Saigon. Gen. Paul Ely, French high commissioner and commander in Indochina, has not talked with Diem for nearly two weeks. Nor was Ely at the airport to greet Collins on his return.

But Collins, who returned from Washington conferences Monday morning, was understood to have withheld any advance endorsement of Diem government moves to drop the absentee chief of state.

Diem and his supporters busted through another action-packed day in the beleaguered capital while the army moved anew to wipe out the rebellious Binh Xuyen force whose outbreak turned the capital into a battlefield last week.

The sound of massive explosions rocked Saigon again Monday night as the national army unleashed a new mopup drive against rebel Gen. Le Van Vien's Binh Xuyen commandos, ending 48 hours of comparative quiet on the military front.

Four battalions of the army stormed across the Chinese arroyo — a canal separating the Chinese suburb of Cho Lon from Saigon proper — and quickly captured Vien's old headquarters.

FAIRLESS RETIRES AS BOARD CHAIRMAN OF U.S. STEEL

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless stepped down as board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp. Monday after 18 years of high executive posts in the world's biggest steel company and 42 years in the steel business.

He told the biggest stockholders' meeting in the company history that he would reach his 65th birthday Tuesday and "under the retirement rule which prevails in our corporation, I must then step aside and surrender the responsibilities of my office to capable and younger hands."

ACCENT ON ASIA

Later than usual, President Eisenhower's foreign aid proposals have been put before Congress. And they show conclusively how the focus of danger has shifted from Europe to Asia.

Most of the proposed $3,530,000,000 sought by the President for the year starting July 1 would be funneled into Asian lands. Europe, for the most part back on its feet, would get relatively little.

The program will not satisfy some Americans who want a more ambitious effort to lift up the less developed Asiatic countries. Last year the then Japanese premier, Yoshida, suggested four billion dollars might not be too much for economic and technical assistance to the area. The proposal struck a responsive chord in some U. S. quarters.

Mr. Eisenhower asks for $1,717,000,000 for military aid and direct support of military forces; $1,000,000,000 for so-called defense support, and just $712,500,000 for outright economic aid. These are overall totals.

Certainly these sums are far from niggardly. As always they reflect compromise, not only between men of differing views on how much Asia needs and can handle, but between liberal and conservative spending attitudes and with the known hostility of many in Congress toward further large scale economic outlays.

The key to these new proposals, indeed, may lie in the billion dollars requested for "defense support." Since it is not intended as direct military help, then it must be broadly defined as economic, but of a special sort allied with the building of a nation's defense structure.

Obviously, considerable discretion must be left to U.S. authorities administering such a program, as to whether particular items are "economic aid" or "defense support." In this zone of assistance, therefore, there lies leeway which careful administrators might use to expand the economic usefulness of foreign aid in Asia.

Mr. Eisenhower's foreign aid message made it plain that his government understands how vital the economic effort is for struggling Asian peoples. With one or two possible exceptions, it is unlikely any of these nations could in the foreseeable future hope to build self-sustaining defense establishments of any real worth against a Communist aggressor.

Their need now is to find a way out of poverty toward a plane where they may one day really stand on their own, enjoying a decent standard of living. The President rightly sees this as a long process, even without the slow-downs caused by Communist interference. But he views it as a crucial process.

Countries like India don't want handouts. They want to be self-supporting. Our aid effort should be aimed shrewdly at helping them attain that goal. They require our technical know-how on a big scale, of course. And they need help in building, not tractors to plow their fields, but factories so they can make their own tractors, power plants so they can operate their factories.

If we bend our programs in these directions, these peoples will begin to rise from the mire of poverty. And they may begin to find the reasons for cherishing the freedom we are urging them to hold onto. When they do, a hundred Bandung conferences could not woo them to communism.

The Mature Parent It's High Time Fathers Reclaimed Their Rights

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

After fertilizing the eggs of the female salmon, the male, figuring that life is over for him, dies. Male insects also follow this morbid instinct.

Is there resemblance between these self-deprecating creatures and the American father? An article in Cosmopolitan says there is. It thinks that our popular cartoon and TV portrayals of Dad as a well-meaning, but bumbling half-wit, are an accurate measure of our low esteem for him. It quotes this comment of a noted anthropologist: "In few societies is the role of father more vestigial than in the United States."

If the American father has renounced his rights in his own home, I don't wonder one bit. No other man in the world has been so harassed by talk of his family's rights.

To begin with, he'd been trained as an American to hate tyranny. So when the feminists called him tyrannical for refusing equal political rights to his wife, he got so nervous he gave her any right she wanted to claim.

Then along came the child psychologists with their demands for the rights of his children. When everybody's rights were finally settled, Dad woke up to find he hadn't any.

He's been solving his problem the only he could. He's made himself cellar workshops, taken up hobbies, gone on fishing trips and joined men's clubs. He's made himself as scarce as possible from the home that regarded the good, old, self-assertive masculine roar as infringement on other people's rights.

Well, wiser people than I connect that banished roar to our statistics on divorce, juvenile delinquency and effeminacy.

As there's nothing like that banished, baritone roar for clearing homes of the sticky, overconscientious female emotionalism that drives mothers to make big productions out of nothing, it's badly missed.

Nor has it helped that Dad performs his work as a man away from home these days. Time was when his woman and children saw him in conquering action. They saw him how logs into fences, gentle the mare, make the trade at the store and come back swinging when frost hit the crop he was counting on.

No more. Though Dad may be expressing the same resourcefulness and courage every day of his life, the person who sees him in conquering action is his secretary. The respect which his work as a man should be building in his wife and children is built into a stranger who doesn't need it.

The other day a distinguished psychiatrist said to me: "Today it is hard to be a man."

It's going to get even harder if fathers don't start reclaiming some of those rights they've handed over to their wives and children.

NEW YORK (AP)—America today is contest-crazy.

For every person trying to get rich quick by buying wildcat oil or uranium stock, there must be 10,000 seeking to end all their money problems by winning a big national prize contest.

There are scores of these contests going on all the time, and the prizes are getting so magnificent the sponsors are scratching their heads trying to think up bigger and better ones. So far neither the Statue of Liberty nor the New York Yankee baseball club have been put up as contest prizes, but don't bet they won't be.

Remember the dear dead days when college boys swallowed goldfish and men nosed peanuts up Pike's Peak for pure glory? Not any more. Contests now have to pay off in hard cash.

The Horatio Alger hero of yesterday got ahead by hard work. But the hero of the modern contest world is the guy who in a single evening wins a world tour, a furnished home and a life income of $500 a month. He does it by sending in a boxtop on which he has scribbled in 25 words why he likes "blotto, the new wonder-absorbent breakfast food."

The goal no longer is to strive and succeed. Why save up for a trip to Paris when it is so much easier to win it by breaking the bank, identifying the mystery tune, solving the puzzle, or entering a contest to name a new seductive perfume?

But the contest mania has become so widespread it is ruining social life in this country. People are so busy filling out box tops they no longer have time to talk.

The craze also has infected the business world. In some offices the white collar dreamers are so busy filling in boxtops or contest labels they have no time for their regular tasks. I heard of one annoyed employer who put up a sign on his bulletin board: "A prize of $10 will be paid this week to the first employee found working at the job he's getting paid to do."

She says she taught him to smoke as a stunt, but now complains that the stunt has become a habit and is embarrassing in public.

New?—Familiar Face—Get the Point—A-Museum—Boom—Keep Wrist Limp

By DOUGLAS LARSEN AND KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Republican women have discovered that President Eisenhower never pays attention to the clothes they wear no matter how fancy or stylish.

When Ike gets together with them for breakfast sessions or other meetings, he's all business. Besides, he just isn't the kind of charmer who tells a gal she's wearing a pretty dress—with one exception.

A close friend reports that a while back Ike's eye happened to be caught by a handsome gray suit Mamie was wearing.

"Gosh, that new outfit looks real nice," he exclaimed.

"Why thank you," said Mamie with a laugh. "I've had it seven or eight years."

Several Times a Week Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks walks to his office from his home in Georgetown, a hike of about four miles. When hoofing it the other morning he got caught in a shower and had trouble hailing a cab.

However, a beat-up Ford driven by an elderly, government clerk-type female, pulled up in front of him. The woman told him she was going to the Commerce Department and she'd give him a lift if that was his destination.

"Say, you look kind of familiar," she said after he hopped in. "Don't you work up on the fifth floor some place?"

"Yes," he replied. "My name is Weeks and my office is 5581." The woman gulped and couldn't think of a thing to say for the rest of the ride.

When The Hungarian embassy threw a shindig the other evening to celebrate the liberation of their homeland from Hitler's occupation forces, not one American diplomat was on hand to sip vodka.

This would not have been surprising except for the fact that U. S. representatives showed up for the very same affair last year.

Here's why: The State Department's special cleaning house for all R.S.P.V.'s to Iron Curtain social events put an official damper on the party. Protocol and political experts looked over the hammer-and-sickle-adorned card which invited guests to attend the "10th anniversary of the liberation of Hungary by the Soviet army."

The last four words had been added since 1954 and implied that the U. S. had given Russia no help in the war effort. So the Communists would get the point, it was decided that U. S. officials should stay away.

There Has Been so much recent progress in the development of new atomic weapons that several persons in the Pentagon are trying to promote an atomic museum.

The early A-bombs, for instance, are obsolete and no longer a secret. There is no reason on security grounds why they shouldn't be shown to the public. At least the outer shells of the bombs could be put on display.

There are other atomic items which could be put in the museum, the experts say.

The project would be in line with Ike's atom-for-peace program. But nervous Pentagon security chiefs turn thumbs down on the whole idea.

Norman P. Mason, commission of the Federal Housing Administration, sees no need to be alarmed by the so-called "building boom."

"I don't want to be like the young mother who, when things are going well, asks her husband to get up and see why the baby's not crying," he told the Southwestern Savings and Loan Conference at New Orleans, La.

"Maybe it's a fatalistic approach to prosperity, like the farmer's dim view of his forthcoming Saturday night fun as he said, 'I've got to go to town tonight to get drunk—and gosh how I dread it.'"

One Thing That really throws suave foreign diplomats off stride in Washington is the way American ladies respond to hand kissing. This is the Old World method of greeting.

One protocol expert at the Navy Department says officers' wives usually go to it as if they are about to shake hands. It's a natural reaction but leaves many a gallant gentleman in a pretty awful spot. He finds it hard to bend down that low. But even worse, he's confronted with a palm that's wrong side up.

The proper technique is actually a cinch, according to those who know. Just hold your hand fairly high and keep wrist limp.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two film veterans were making a movie together for the first time in 25 years.

No they weren't two doddering oldsters. One was Jackie Coogan, the celebrated "Kid" of silent films and the most successful boy star of film history. The other was Mitzi Green, child star who became a night club performer.

Both have had recent success in TV. Coogan has appeared in "Cowboy G-Men," the much-played western series. Miss Green performs in the Saturday night show, "So This Is Hollywood."

The pair was making a film for "So This Is Hollywood" at Hal Roach studios. The script portrayed Coogan as a successful steel executive (he was once in the war surplus business) who visits a studio where he had been a child star. He falls in the mud on his way in. Mitzi, who once co-starred with him, figures he's down on his luck and tries to get him a job.

They did a hilarious scene recalling the silent film days. Afterward they sat down and reminisced about their younger days.

Coogan is 40 and youthful looking despite his bald head. He is now married to his fourth wife, Mitzi is 34, blonde and vivacious, the wife of film director Joe Pevney.

"Boy, we had some times, didn't we?" she said.

"We sure did," he replied. "I guess the last time we worked together was on the Lanny Ross radio show around 1935."

"That's right. We did a scene from 'Huckleberry Finn.' That was the last picture we did together. It was 1931."

"You were always hanging around with us boys. We tried to shake you because we thought you were a spy. We thought sure you'd equal that we were smoking cigarettes while nobody was looking."

"Yo guys were always giving me a rough time. I had to wear a long, curly wig and you'd chase me around until my head got all sweaty."

"And remember the hot dog stand? We used to order every thing and give the man your name."

"I know it. At the end of the month, I'd get a bill for $30 and my mother would ask me, 'How can you eat so much?'"

Tip for Businesswomen: Here's What 'Boss' Expects

What are the qualifications of a good secretary? Girls who are about to go out into the business world should be interested in the answer given to that question by Anne Moore, member of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries.

Technical qualifications of a good secretary, Miss Moore says, are:

1. The ability to handle dictation with such ease that she will not be under pressure.
2. Good typing and filing ability.
3. Orderliness in her work.
4. The possession of common sense.

But mind you these are just the "technical" qualifications. They can help a girl get a good job and even hold it. But for a young woman to become the kind of second right arm a man eventually comes to feel he couldn't possibly get along without, a secretary has to have many of the qualities that a wife needs to keep a man happy at home.

BE A CREDIT TO THE BOSS
She has to be able to make the boss feel that he is tops among men of his own business or profession. For a man's ego often needs reassurance during the business day, just as it needs building up when the working day is over.

She has to be able to use her own initiative and yet not make her employer feel that she thinks she knows more than he does. A secretary's "I thought that was how you would like to have the matter handled" is just a diplomatic way of saying, "I figured out a way to handle that situation and went ahead and took care of it." It is the same technique a wife uses when she says, "I didn't want to worry you with it so I went ahead and did such-and-such."

She has to be a credit to her boss—both in her appearance and in her manner toward others. A secretary's being a fast typist or a wife's being an excellent cook are not alone enough to make a man proud when he says, "Will you take that matter up with my secretary?" or "I want you to meet my wife."

She has to be able to bring calm to moments of chaos. In any relationship between a man and woman, whether it is business or personal, the man expects the woman to keep things going smoothly.

a message from Mary

Next Sunday is Mothers Day—a wonderful day for a really wonderful person. Perhaps you didn't get around to having a fine portrait made for her and now it is too late but it isn't too late to plan some way of remembering. A beautiful bouquet of flowers is an appreciated gift just as a nice box of chocolates would be. Whatever you do—just don't forget this important date.

Dad! We have a swell gift for the new mother. This is a membership into the Aunt Mary Birthday Club of America. This wonderful plan entitles you to six 8x10 portraits of your child—the first one made at 6 months, 1 year or 2 year birthday and then the following five birthdays. You get six beautiful portraits for only $4.94—less than 84¢ per year. So Dad why not drop in the studio this week and pick up one of the membership packages and you will really please mother.

Many people have an aversion to hand colored pictures, and having seen those upon which they base their judgment, I can certainly agree with them. But when you have seen some of our beautifully colored portraits, I think that you'll agree that the artist's work is delicately done and adds much to the natural and lifelike loveliness of the portrait of the person.

Last Tuesday we photographed over a dozen children. More and more parents are taking advantage of TUESDAY IS TOT'S DAY and the tiny prices for tiny tots on this day only. No appointment is needed, so why don't you come in this Tuesday and have a portrait made of your child that you will be so very proud to show your friends. I really hope that I will be seeing you.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XIX THE flag station of Gad's Hill, 100 miles south of St. Louis in Old Missouri's big piney section of southwestern hills, stood in winter quiet. A few minutes after 5 p. m., Jan. 31, 1874, the village blacksmith, the town physician and three of their fellow natives gathered at the stationmaster's shack as was their custom, to await the passing of Iron Mountain Railroad's Little Rock Express.

Five strangers rode up out of the gloom to surround the station. Their workaday attire—boots, long blue overcoats, flat black hats, cheap calico masks—commanded the attention and respect of the Gad's Hillians. Clell Miller ambled down the track and jammed the station agent's red flag between the ties just beyond the depot. As soon as the flag was planted, five more masked men rode out of the woods and joined the original group.

Sharply at 5:40, the Little Rock Express chuffed to a noisily steaming halt. Frank took the locomotive, inviting the engineer and fireman to join him in a short stroll toward the depot while Jesse, accompanied by Cole, entered the sleepers. The second crew of bandits, headed by Jim Younger, invaded the day coaches.

Business in the sleepers was brisk. One after another the passengers were aroused from their seats and cordially invited to contribute to the Missouri wheatsack being dragged down the narrow aisle. One passenger alone, a lumber company executive, consigned $5000 in payroll cash to Mr. Younger's burlap collection plate.

Jesse had his gun in the flowered weskit of one of the plugged hats when that upset ticketholder made the mistake of offering up a pocket watch of worthless Ger-of the two horsemen. "We want to talk to you."

Detective Wright was not in a mood for talk with armed desperadoes. He drew his revolver, fired over their heads, yelled to his two companions to "get out fast!" and ran for it. The second horseman threw two revolver shots after him, succeeded only in knocking his hat off. The next instant Wright was around a bend in the road and safely away.

His companions never moved. They were directly under the cover of the first horseman's double-barreled shotgun. "Now," said the latter calmly, "we'll have our little talk. Take off your pistols and drop them in the road." The detectives unhooked their gunbelts, let them fall. The younger horseman dismounted, picked them up.

LULL swiftly reached for a hidden pocket pistol, one of the blunt-nosed models carried by plainclothesmen of the day. He cocked and fired it on the draw, point blank, into the man with the shotgun.

His horse bolted as he fired, and he heard the second horseman's guns bark behind him. He felt the two slugs rip into him. The first was a harmless flesh wound in the upper arm, but the second took him low in the left side.

While his own wounds were occupying Lull, the second horseman, in addition to downing the brave Pinkerton operative, had killed Constable Daniels. But the Pinkerton detective's single opening shot had not been wasted. The first of the accosting horsemen, shot through the base of the throat by the heavy ball, lay hemorrhaging his life away in the dirt of the Roscoe road even as Lull was receiving his own fatal wounds.

Lull's "two hard-looking men on horseback," were Jim and John Younger.

Jim buried his brother that same night in the lonely twilight of the farmhouse orchard.

Church Women To Hear Mayor

Mayor Ernest Hoagland will speak on the subject, "Problems Concerning Jacksonville's Juveniles, Housing and Health" before the United Church Women of Jacksonville, at their annual May Fellowship Day, Friday, May 6 at 2 p. m., in Northminster Presbyterian church.

The National Council of Churches sets up a program of local emphasis for its May meeting. The local organization will continue the study of subjects discussed at this year's Lenten Study Classes.

Mayor Hoagland will tell from his view point and that of the city council, how the Christian women in Jacksonville can cooperate with existing agencies; where cooperation with the city council is needed; how and where church women can give moral support to secure better housing, a better health code, a detention home for juveniles, and other improvements.

A question and answer period will follow Mr. Hoagland's talk.

The annual election of officers is also a part of this meeting, and the nominating committee composed of Miss Margaret Moore, Mrs. Nelle Self Wandell, and Mrs. Sherwood Eddy will bring its report.

Three Months Old Pup Saved From Old Well

A three months old Beagle pup was saved from a watery grave Sunday by two members of the Jacksonville fire department, who rescued it from an old well at 824 East Independence avenue.

The department received a call at 7:15 o'clock Sunday morning reporting that the pup, owned by Charles Decker, could be heard whining in the well. Firemen Frank Loneragan and Sonny Campbell went to the address and dropped a ladder into the well, which contains about five feet of water.

The young Beagle had been putting up a valiant struggle. He had clung to some old boards floating in the well, but had tumbled from them and was swimming when the firemen gave him a helping hand.

Rural Students Present Program At White Hall

WHITE HALL—Students of the rural centers presented an interesting program at the regular P.T.A. meeting on Monday night.

The program under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Drake had a combined rhythm band under the direction of Howard Goff, a rhythm band number given by pupils of Miss Daisy Bell Price's school, at Highstreet attendance center; piano solo by Janice Cox of the Belltown school; choral readings by Gregory pupils with "Candy Town," "Dorothy and Arithmetic" and "What do we plant" with Carol Early and Ruth Thurston as announcers. Buick alone brings you the year's two big sensations—

It didn't take the car buyers of the nation very long to discover that this year Buick's the car with more headline news than a newspaper.

And the news is so good—in styling, in power, in performance, and in price—that Buick sales are soaring to an all-time best-seller high.

But even in a long list of standout developments engineered by Buick for 1955, two are so "hot," they stand out as the sensations of the year, by far.

One is the new kind of automobile you see pictured here . . .

The 4-Door Riviera—a new kind of body design . . .

A true hardtop with no center doorposts to obstruct your view to the sides—yet with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus full Buick-size Sedan room for all.

The other sensation—and we mean that literally—is a new kind of automatic transmission . . .

Variable Pitch Dynaflo—a new kind of magic principle based on the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller . . .

A silk-smooth wonder drive with twenty propeller-like blades that angle one way for extra gas mileage in cruising—then switch their pitch when you press the pedal way down to give you an instantaneous burst of getaway or accelerating power when you need a safety surge split-second quick.

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—capping the popularity that has already moved Buick into the top circle of America's best sellers.

So if you want the performance thrill of the year in the new kind of hardtop that's sweeping the country—better come see us real soon, for only in a Buick can you get them both.

P.S. #1: The 4-Door Riviera is coming off the assembly lines in full volume—in the low-price SPECIAL Series, and in the high-powered CENTURY Series—and both at the moderate extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model.

P.S. #2: Today's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflo costs no more than earlier versions of this pace-setting Drive.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Blue Lustre, a gentle foam cleaner, works equally well on wall-to-wall carpeting, fine Oriental rugs or upholstery. That's because Blue Lustre brushes into the fabric without sogging or matting it, and removes the dirt without harsh action. What's more, it doesn't leave behind any oily or gummy substance. The foam disappears like soap bubbles blown into the air. You can clean your furnishing simply, easily and cheaply with Blue Lustre. A half-gallon of concentrate will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.

A MONUMENTAL TRIBUTE TO PEACE

WHAT COULD he do, Antone Martin wondered, to help prevent an atomic war? A retired aircraft worker, Martin turned to religion for an inspiration. He built a monument of Christ, the Prince of Peace, out of three tons of cement. The ten-foot-tall statue was placed on a 90-foot hill, overlooking a highway near Palm Springs, Calif. So gratifying was the response that Martin turned out a 15-foot-tall statue of a sitting Christ preaching the Sermon on the Mount. At His feet are two children. It was placed 100 feet from the first statue. Martin is now making the disciples, all of whom will face Christ. Later on, farther up the Joshua tree-covered slope, Martin will create a bas relief of the Last Supper.

Martin works on feet of one of disciples, which cost forty dollars apiece. Christ gives Sermon on the Mount (left). At right, is Judas and money bag. King Features Syndicate.

ELDORADO, Ill. (AP) — The 160-acre farm of an Eldorado widow sold at public auction Saturday for what officials termed a Saline County record price of $700 an acre.

The land was part of the estate left by Mrs. Minnie Gates who died June 12.

Mineral rights to the land had not been leased although the acreage is almost encircled by proven oil property.

Dr. W. H. Walters of St. Louis, the husband of a niece of Mrs. Gates, bought the land for a total of $110,500.

Baby Crushed As Grandfather Dies Of Heart Attack

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A 19-month-old boy was killed Saturday apparently when his grandfather suffered a fatal heart attack and fell from a bench, crushing the child, police reported.

Victims in the unusual accident were Michael Wobbe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wobbe of Belleville, and Frank Defilippi, 68.

Officers said there were no witnesses to the incident but a short time before Defilippi's body was found laying across the child, a neighbor had seen him seated on a bench in Defilippi's back yard holding the child in his arms.

The child is believed to have died of internal injuries.

Double funeral services will be held Wednesday morning.

27 Hard Maple Trees Planted By Pilot Club

Twenty-seven hard maple trees were planted Sunday, April 24, by members of the Jacksonville Pilot club. Numerous requests were made by residents for trees, the demand exceeding the present supply. Those whose requests were not filled will be the first to receive trees when another planting is made by the Pilot club.

Six members, Gladys Hamilton, Neil Stout, Ferold Thorn, Mary Walters, Rhoda Samoreo and Margaret Riley, worked in chilly weather and rain from 9 in the morning until 2:30 in the afternoon. They were assisted by Allen Kelly, chairman of the highway committee, Sam Pevey, superintendent of streets, and two city maintenance men, Lee McMillan and John Flynn. These men dug the holes for the plantings.

A number of thank you notes have been received from citizens who have received trees in the past.

On Tuesday, April 26, Mrs. Ferol Thorn, member of the Pilot club's Galley Slaves, one of two groups engaged in treasury increasing projects, entertained her fellow galley slaves at dinner and the members of the finance and membership committee. Tigers Cop Number 5; Fine Relief Hurling Stops Arenzville 5-2

Ronald Broseghini came in with the bases loaded and nobody out in the seventh and retired the side without a run scoring to protect the Tiger's 5-2 lead and give the hosts their fifth victory of the season and their fourth PMBC loop win.

Jack Rampley started on the mound for the Clarkmores and was sailing along in fine fashion, allowing single markers in the fourth and sixth innings. However, he ran into trouble in the seventh—loading the bases and thus setting the stage for Broseghini's fine clutch pitching.

Archie Moore Takes 15-Round Heavy Battle

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Ancient Archie Moore of California moved his heavyweight campaign into high gear Monday night when he pounded out a decision over Nino Valdes of Cuba in a bruising 16-round fight.

The 38-year-old king of the light heavyweights, weighing 196½, captured the verdict over the Havana fighter, 20½, who is rated the No. 1 challenger to Marciano's heavyweight championship.

Referee Jimmy Braddock, the sole arbiter, called the champion from San Diego the winner of eight rounds. He gave the 30-year-old Nino five and called two even.

It was Archie's 20th straight victory and the first loss in 12 straight matches for Valdes.

Moore closed last to win the decision, and in the eyes of many ringsters, he had to come with a rush to overtake the long armed Cuban. The Associated Press had it all even going into the 15th.

Archie started Valdes' left eye swelling in the sixth round and this may have been the payoff, because Moore knocked it completely shut toward the end of the 13th.

Valdes fought the last two rounds blind in one eye.

There were no knockdowns.

A turnout estimated at around 7,000 watched the non-televized match in the Las Vegas ball park.

Ben Hogan Favored In Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The golf tour moves into Fort Worth for the ninth annual $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament this week and there's a familiar ring to the chatter around the big, tough course—Ben Hogan is the favorite.

There hasn't been a Colonial tournament yet that Ben wasn't the choice for first money and he has won it four times in his eight years. He might have made it five had he not been forced to withdraw last year because of illness.

Hogan was in good position to win it when he quit at the half-way mark.

They call Colonial Country Club's 7,035 weary yards Hogan's Alley. He holds the record for 18 holes—

Wynn Hurls Indians To 4-2 Win Over Bosox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Early Wynn hurled his first pitching victory of the season Monday as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-2. Dave Pope hit a three-run homer for the Indians and Jackie Jensen homered for the Red Sox.

Pope's homer, his first of the season, came in the first inning after Al Smith led off with a double and Ralph Kiner walked. Pope was playing center field for Larry Doby, who was sidelined by a strained muscle.

The Indians were held to four hits by three Boston pitchers.

Wynn, sidelined at the opening of the season by bronchial pneumonia, was knocked out of the box in his first start.

Cubs Nip Phils 2-1 Behind Warren Hacker

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies and the Chicago Cubs traded homers in the second inning Monday night, then a Dee Fondy double and an Eddie Miksis single in the third gave the Cubs a 2-1 win in the afterpiece of an abbreviated twin bill.

The Cubs earlier wrapped up a 4-2 win over the Phils in the carried-over second game of a Sunday doubleheader that was called because of the curfew law with Jim Greengrass at bat and one out in the Phil's ninth.

The two victories sent the Cubs into second place in the National League as Milwaukee dropped a 12-inning, 2-0 decision at Brooklyn.

Ernie Banks got the Cubs off to an early lead in the regular game, homering with one out in the second.

Del Ennis put the Phils right back in the ball game with a lead-off homer in the Phillies half of the second but it didn't stay that way long as ace right-hander Robin Roberts headed for his second loss of the year against three wins.

Warren Hacker finished up the hyphenated Sunday nightcap but the win went to Hal Jeffcoat, who was pitching when the curfew law halted matters Sunday. Hacker also went the route in the regular game Monday night and posted his first win against one loss.

Four Homers Lead Senators' 12-1 Victory Over A's

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Roy Sievers and Jim Busby hit two home runs apiece Monday night to lead the Washington Senators to a 12-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics. Sievers hit both of his home runs with two men on base.

Johnny Schmitz, veteran Washington left-hander, gave up 12 hits but kept them so well scattered that he held the Athletics scoreless until the eighth inning when Gus Zernial hit his fifth home run of the season.

The victory was Schmitz's third without a loss. Coming into Monday night's game he had a string of 14 consecutive scoreless innings and he ran it to 21 before Zernial connected in the eighth.

Schmitz started his streak against Baltimore and continued with a scoreless seven-inning performance against Cleveland.

Cloyd Boyer started for the Athletics and suffered the loss, evening his record at 1-1. He was followed to the mound by Bob Trice, Sonny Dixon and Lou S'ater. All but S'ater were hit hard.

Dodgers Edge Braves 2-0 In 12 Innings

BROOKLYN (AP)—Carl Furillo slammed his eighth home run of the season with Jackie Robinson on base in the 12th inning to break up a brilliant scoreless pitching duel between Brooklyn's Carl Erskine and Milwaukee's Gene Conley Monday night and give the Dodgers a thrilling 2-0 triumph.

Furillo's blow a long drive that landed in the lower left field stands, came after Gil Hodges had opened the bottom half of the 11th by becoming Conley's eighth strike-out victim and Robinson followed with a walk, Conley's sixth of the game.

Until then, Conley had out-pitched Erskine, permitting only three hits to six for the Brooklyn right-hander. The Braves had Erskine in trouble in both the 11th and 12th innings but each time Carl wriggled out of a jam, leaving three runners stranded in the 11th and two in the 12th.

The victory, Brooklyn's 16th in 18 starts this season, put them six games in front of the second place Chicago Cubs and 6½ ahead of the third place Braves.

The three local prep baseball teams and the local college nine enter the final stretch of the 1955 season with a big week of activity starting today.

In an intra-city clash on the Illinois College diamond the Routt Rockets play host to the ISD Tigers in a 3:30 contest. The PMBC Conference contest will pit the two Jacksonville schools for he first time this year.

ISD coach "Potsy" Clark plans to start his ace, Ronald Broseghini, on the mound. Routt mentor Jim Smarjesse will also go with ace, Joe Shanahan. Both have hurled good ball all year long but Broseghini has had more rest than the Rockets star. Shanahan has hurled in every game Routt has played while Broseghini has shared the ISD pitching with Jack Rampley.

Jerseyville To Have Legion Baseball Team

JERSEYVILLE — The Worthy Post of the American Legion will sponsor a Junior Legion baseball team this season. The program is part of the one being carried out on a national scale through the joint sponsorship of the American Legion and the two major leagues, American and National.

Any boy born after Sept. 1st, 1937, is eligible for the Jerseyville team if there is no other Junior Legion team between Jerseyville and the city where the youth resides. This gives the local team a wide area to draw from.

Boys who are interested in try-outs for the team may contact one of the following: Charles Witt and J. B. Hunter of Jerseyville and Bud Stamper of Dow. Applicants for the tryouts must bring their birth certificates with them when applying for team membership.

J. B. Hunter reported that tryouts will begin as soon as weather conditions become suitable.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was highly irregular Monday with prices swinging sluggishly. Changes in individual issues sometimes went as far as $4 either way in key sections, but most gains and losses were well within a $2 range.

Most of the day prices pointed higher, but shortly before the close there was a moderate selloff in aircrafts and some motors and railroads.

The emphasis was on individual issues rather than group movements. The market as a whole ended unchanged on average but there were more losers than gainers in the list.

Brokers pointed out that the action of Monday's market was in line with the indecisive markets of last week when The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained unchanged.

The average Monday also was unchanged at $164.80. The industrial component was up 20 cents while the rails were down 20 cents and utilities were unchanged.

Volume was moderate at 2,220,000 shares, compared with 2,230,000 shares Friday.

The American was mixed on volume of 730,000 shares, compared with 690,000 Friday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market was firm Monday as trading slowed.

Railroads were generally higher but utilities and industrials fluctuated narrowly. Convertible obligations were erratic with some wide gainers and losers. "Big Board" volume declined to $3,771,000 par value from $4,480,000 Friday.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

Butchers scaling 240 to 270 went at $16.25 to $16.75. Sows sold from $12.25 to $14.50.

Steers sold steady to 50 cents higher in the cattle section, where salable receipts totaled 17,000. Heifers held steady. A few loads of mostly prime steers brought $27.00 to $27.50, the top.

7-YEAR-OLD GENERAL FOR A DAY FINDS IT'S NOT TOO HARD

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Being a general isn't so hard, 7-year-old "Maj. Gen." Mike Kelly decided Monday after his fling at commanding 50,000 fighting men.

The Louisville boy, excited but poised and confident, was "general for a day" at this sprawling Army base.

Little Mike wrote Maj. Gen. George W. Read Jr. to ask how a fellow goes about becoming a general.

The commanding general of Ft. Knox passed over the "hard work" advice and gave the boy a short-cut fling at his ambition.

Early Monday, an Army staff car with the two stars of a major general picked up Mike and his mother at their home and hustled them to headquarters.

Mike, wearing a uniform to match the two stars, sat proudly in the car as GIs "came to" when it passed.

At headquarters, Gen. Read saluted snappily, gave Mike his commission and turned over the command to him.

After a briefing, the youthful general met staff officers, inspected troops, took a tank ride, held a press conference, and sampled the mess hall chow.

During the press conference, he confided: "I didn't sleep much last night. I was kinda excited."

ALL GRAINS EASE, EXCEPT SOYBEANS ON DULL MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains except soybeans eased on the Board of Trade Monday. Soybeans scored modest gains.

Dealings throughout the session were very slow. The market's pattern was set right at the opening when everything except old crop beans opened lower.

Aside from the fact new crop bean futures moved ahead shortly after the opening, there wasn't any change in the market's direction right through to the close.

Wheat finished 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 1/4-1/2 lower, oats 1/4-1/2 lower, rye 1/2 to 1 cent lower, soybeans 1/2-1/2 higher and lard 8 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Despite the general downturn all contracts held above their seasonal lows. In rye, however, the approach to the lows was very close. At one time all rye deliveries were within a cent of their previous seasonal lows.

Mostly, the market suffered from a lack of buying inspiration. In view of that, mild hedging pressure, plus some sales from discouraged longs, was enough to cause the lower trend.

Much of the buying in soybeans appeared to come from previous short sellers. They had remained short until publication of the April 1 statistics on bean stocks in all positions, issued after the market closed last Friday.

Both bean oil and bean meal firmed slightly in the cash market, and that was a help to bean futures. Visible supply of beans declined again last week and now totals 1,842,000 bushels compared with 8,727,000 a year ago.

Iowa's Governor, Stratton To Give Road Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Heogh of Iowa said Monday he expects soon to issue a joint statement with Gov. Stratton of Illinois on possible connections between proposed toll roads in both states.

Heogh said the statement probably will be made before Wednesday, when he plans to leave here after attending a governor's conference.

The statement, he indicated, will be of a general, preliminary nature rather than a presentation of a detailed plan.

"All I've done," Heogh told a newsman, "is make the liaison to prepare the way for the toll road commission of both states to begin preparatory discussions."

The governor said his state recently approved a toll road commission but conditioned any project authorization on the road connecting with one in Illinois or other border states. Heogh said he has not yet even appointed the commission.

Nine Ex-GIs Need Funds For Trip To Soviet Reunion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nine ex-GIs who say they believe they are doing something for peace in the world got passports Monday to go to Moscow.

But they're still looking for the money to finance the trip, which they hope to start Tuesday night. Tuesday morning they will go to the Russian Embassy where visas have been promised them, they said.

They were at the link-up of American and Soviet armies at the Elbe River in Germany on April 23, 1945, in World War II and held a tenth anniversary dinner here last April 23. They have been invited by Soviet veterans to a Moscow celebration May 9—the day the Soviets celebrate victory over Germany.

The Soviet government has offered to pay their expenses from Paris, France to Moscow and back to Paris, they said. They have their plane reservations out of New York Tuesday night even if they don't have the money yet to pay for the tickets.

"We need some philanthropist who can sign a check for $5,600," said Joseph Polowsky of Chicago, "and who wants to do something for peace."

"If we handle this right, it can be the beginning of something good between the two countries, and we're going to handle it right. You wait and see."

Among the 10 veterans is Robert Haag, Indianapolis, Ind.

Girl Found Dead Once Reported To Wed U.S. Athlete

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Detectives are investigating today the death of a Swedish girl caused, they said after an autopsy, by an air embolism.

Miss Birgit Johansson, 25, identified by authorities as the daughter of Axel H. Johansson, building contractor of Stockholm and Gunnilse, Sweden, was found dead in her apartment Saturday. She had been employed as a bookkeeper in a Hollywood bank, having come here a year ago.

Last Dec. 12 the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said Miss Johansson and Mal Whitfield, American Negro track star, would be married. Whitfield denied it and later Miss Johansson said the report was due to a misunderstanding.

Whitfield's brother-in-law Horace P. Clark said Saturday that Whitfield, en route now to Trinidad for a track meet, met Miss Johansson during the 1952 Olympics in Stockholm but they never dated. Police said they have found nothing involving Whitfield in the death case. There have been no arrests.

Dr. Frederick D. Newbarr, coroner's chief autopsy surgeon, said the post-mortem examination showed the victim was five to six months pregnant and he added: "The presence of air in the blood stream and in the heart was the immediate cause of death."

Army's View On Cuts 'Fully Considered', Officials Tell Congress

Radford said he believed U.S. strength in the last three or four years had increased more than Soviet Russia's, "due primarily to the tremendous development of our jet aircraft and our weapons delivery system."

Wilson said the 75,000-man Army cut represented a "cushion" left in earlier estimates to meet any deterioration in world conditions. He said it was decided last December, in making a final review of the budget, that the situation in Korea and Indochina had "changed to the point where this cushion was no longer necessary."

In answer to questions, Wilson agreed that the cutback meant the Army views were "not given primary consideration." He said this was not unusual.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States has seldom been in a situation where she needed to walk more softly than in Viet Nam today.

It's not merely that she has become involved in a multiple-sided family fight. That's bad enough, especially when it deeply involves relations with France.

There is the additional danger that, even though she is backing the side of independence, she will appear to other Asiatic peoples as replacing France in the colonial picture. This is something Washington has studiously sought to avoid.

That France is losing the political battle for Indochina seems just as obvious as her loss of the military battle last year. But she has been fighting hard to do what the British did when India finally gained her independence. That is to preserve her commercial interests, in Communist-held as well as in non-Communist territory.

One of France's great handicaps in this stems from the fact she has been forced to accept American economic aid for South Viet Nam, which gives the country dollars to pay for American imports when reduction in expenditures by the French armed forces has reduced the supply of francs.

Ideology also plays an important part in the split. The United States hopes to see a stable government in Viet Nam before next year's voting when it is feared the Vietminh Communists might take over the whole country.

Americans have never fallen for the French effort to present Chief of State Bao Dai, the former emperor, as a symbol of loyalty for all Viet Nam. He has always looked like a playboy puppet through whom the French sought to maintain their control while making noises about extension of independence.

Now there is armed rebellion against the established government of Premier Diem, appointed by the French, through Bao Dai.

LAKE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Fires destroyed more than 30,000 acres of timberland during the weekend.

The fires ranged from Columbia and Baker counties on the Georgia line to Lee County in south Florida. In between, big fires were going on in Flagler, Marion, Dixie and Volusia counties.

Lake City, a town of about 3,000 population 50 miles west of Jacksonville, was showered Sunday by cinders and ashes from the 7,500-acre Columbia County fire, which burned to within 10 miles of the city limits. A shift in the wind caused the shower to stop.

Churchill set his alarm for 3:15 a.m. the next day, and promptly at 4 a.m. rang the bell at the prospect's home. The sleepy-eyed resident admonished Churchill to "get out and stay out."

Churchill, totting a supply of ham and eggs he had planned to serve for the prospect's breakfast, adjourned to a downtown restaurant. While eating, he sold a policy to a prospect seated on the next stool.

APPROVES DIEM'S APPARENT WIN

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's foreign minister today applauded Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's apparent winning of control in South Viet Nam. Y. T. Pong told a news conference Diem's victory showed the free people of Viet Nam now are "determined to fight not only communism but also French colonialism."

Tax Case Witness, Wife Missing, Fear Foul Play

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charles Ferri, a New Jersey contractor who testified for the government in the Albert Anastasia income tax evasion trial, and his wife are missing under mysterious circumstances, and police said Monday they may have been slain.

Bloodstains have been found in the richly furnished suburban home the Ferris occupied northeast of Miami. The house gave evidence of a violent struggle.

"We can't call it murder until some bodies are found," said Deputy Sheriff Floyd Alsbury, "but it sure looks bad."

Ferri, 68, a plumbing and heating contractor, was last seen Friday—the day he was served with a subpoena to testify in a new trial for Anastasia starting next week in Newark.

The contractor had testified in the first trial of Anastasia, reputed longtime head of the Brooklyn Murder, Inc., mob last October. He was a government witness.

The Federal government had built up a net worth expenditures case against Anastasia, trying to show he spent more money than he earned or had access to in 1947 and 1948.

Those were the years he was accused of holding back $11,742 in income taxes.

The trial ended in a jury disagreement.

Ferri was the second government witness to disappear. Benedetto Macri disappeared before the trial after having testified before the grand jury which indicted Anastasia.

Billy Graham Says Scotch Crusade History's Largest

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Billy Graham said his six-week Scotch crusade was the largest evangelistic event in history. Television and telephonic hookups swelled his total audience to 2,547,365, he reported Sunday night.

Graham wound up his nightly meetings Saturday with a mammoth gathering of more than 100,000 persons at Hampden Park Stadium.

The American evangelist told a news conference that 52,353 persons made "decisions for Christ" during the campaign.

The response to Graham this year exceeded that during a 12-week revival he held in London last year. Audiences which heard him then directly or by relay totaled 2,047,330, and there were 38,447 decisions.

Youth Held In Slaying Of Honor Student By Error

NEW YORK (AP)—A smiling, cynical youth gang member was held today in the slaying of a 15-year-old model boy whom he mistook for a member of a rival gang.

Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17, was charged with homicide in the death of William Blankenship Jr., an honor student and high school football star.

The killing broke the slain boy's father, a civic leader and fighter against juvenile crime.

Said William Blankenship Sr., a research chemist: "We're going to take the boy to Pennsylvania—where he was born in the blue Poconos—and we're going to put him into clean dirt."

"Then we're going to leave this city. We're whipped. We've been caught and crushed."

A group of teen-aged girls cheered Santana as he was taken to a police station Sunday for fingerprinting and photographing.

"I love you, Tarzan," shouted one of the girls.

Santana laughed and triumphantly showed his handcuffs.

Police said young Blankenship was cut down by a bullet from a foreign-made automatic fired by Santana Saturday night in the Bronx. Blankenship was on his way to the movies with a friend.

Chicago Reports 15 Cases Polio Since Jan. 1

CHICAGO (AP)—Fifteen cases of polio have been reported in Chicago since Jan. 1—the largest number for the first four months of any year since 1910.

Dr. Herman M. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health, said Monday three of the polio cases developed over the past weekend.

Up to this time last year Chicago had two polio cases.

"Only time will tell," Dr. Bundesen said, "whether this year's early increase is significant."

Only one of the 15 polio cases—an 18-month old boy who incurred the disease two weeks ago—had been inoculated with the new Salk polio vaccine. He was inoculated with vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

The Cutter vaccine has been withdrawn by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Chicago health authorities Monday began inoculating 88,000 first and second graders in the city's 390 public elementary schools with vaccine manufactured by other firms. Scheduled vaccinations at one school, Rogers Branch, were postponed, however, because a 7-year-old pupil developed polio last week.

Vaccinations for the other pupils at Rogers Branch School were postponed to determine whether any other pupils were infected.

Train Kills Boy, 8, Playing On Tracks

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—An 8-year-old boy was killed Monday by a Rock Island Railroad passenger train while playing on a trestle over Hickory Creek. His twin sister leaped from the train's path and escaped injury.

The dead boy was William Vancil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vancil of Joliet.

Police said William and his sister, Joan, left a playground in Highland Park and climbed an embankment to the railroad trestle. A witness told police the children were playing on the west end of the trestle when the passenger train approached. He said the girl leaped from the path of the train and rolled down the embankment.

The engineer of the train, Roy Vent of Bureau, Ill., told police he saw the children on the trestle but was unable to stop the train in time.

HONOR POSTMAN FOR SAVING DOG

CHICAGO (AP)—A mail carrier who has been bitten by dogs three times was honored Monday for saving one in a fire.

"All dogs do not hate postmen and all postmen do not hate dogs," observed Raymond Collins as he accepted a framed certificate.

Collins was delivering mail March 31 when he spotted a fire in a home. He turned in an alarm, returned and saw a puppy jumping up and down at a window. He entered and carried it to safety.

The certificate was presented by the Anti-Cruelty Society in connection with Be Kind to Animals Week.

Although some lizards take readily to water, none are thoroughly aquatic.

Fitzsimmons, Sims, Souza Draw Four Year Terms As Aldermen

Alderman Fitzsimmons of the Second Ward, Alderman Lewis W. Sims of the Fourth Ward, and Alderman Clarence R. Souza of the Seventh Ward drew the long terms of four years when the length of their terms was determined by lot last night.

Two year terms were drawn by Aldermen Maurice McHatten, Wilbur G. DeFrates, and George Greenler, also representing the Second, Fourth, and Seventh Wards, respectively.

Necessity of drawing for long and short terms in the three wards arose when the city was redistricted by the addition of three wards.

Alderman Jack Mathews placed numbers in a hat, from which slips of paper were drawn by the new councilmen in the three wards where such procedure was necessary.

Membership of 14 council committees was announced by Mayor Hoagland early in last night's meeting, attended by all 14 aldermen. Each councilman was assigned to at least one chairmanship on the standing committees.

14 New Committees

Committees as of May 1 are as follows:

Building — Mathews, McHatten, Fitzsimmons.

Finance — Hall, Mathews, Sheerin.

Fire — Scott, Mathews, DeFrates.

Garage — Greenler, Scott, McHatten.

Health — DeFrates, Souza, Allen.

Highway — Kelly, Fitzsimmons, Goodey.

Insurance — Souza, Rowe, Hall.

Judiciary — McHatten, DeFrates, Greenler.

Light — Sims, Kelly, Hall, Rowe.

Ordinance — Sheerin, McHatten, Rowe.

Police — Fitzsimmons, Sheerin, Kelly.

Public Property — Goodey, Kelly, Sims.

Sewer — Allen, Greenler, Scott.

Water — Rowe, Allen, Goodey, Sims.

The first session of the newly enlarged council moved along with smoothness and dispatch. Presenting the mayor explained recent or pending business to the new members, each of whom asked questions as they prepared themselves to serve on the various committees.

Alderman Kelly reported that space for 10 parking meters exists on the north side of the public square, where the Elm City Bus Lines had a terminal for a number of years before it suspended operations several months ago. Kelly said there are no indications that another company will seek the franchise, and recommended that the space be used for meters.

Vote to Buy Meters

On motion of Alderman McHatten, seconded by Alderman Fitzsimmons, the council voted to dispense with bids and buy 10 Dual parking meters.

A resolution appropriating $12,000 motor fuel tax funds for maintenance of arterial streets during the year passed on motions of Aldermen Kelly and Allen.

Les Long proprietor of the Illinois Hotel, reported to the council that a number of motor scooter and motorcycle riders have been disturbing the peace in the vicinity of the hotel at night. Long said the riders take off at high speed, creating a din that he considers needless if the ordinances regulating speed and mufflers are enforced. Mayor Hoagland referred the complaint to the police committee.

To Hold Hearings On U. S. Control Of Vaccine Allocation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee said Monday he would hold hearings "as soon as possible" on appeals for federal controls over distribution of the Salk polio vaccine.

Spence said a controversy is developing over whether the government should step in and decide who will get the vaccine first, or whether allocations should be left to private channels.

"Certainly it is very essential that the vaccine be distributed properly and equitably," the chairman added in an interview. "We will look into it immediately."

His committee has jurisdiction in the House over price and wage controls, priorities and allocations.

Sens. Morse (D-Ore.) and Lehman (D-Ny.) added their voices Monday to demands for a quick federal law to see to it that the vaccine goes first to those who need it most. Generally speaking, these are children from 5 to 9 years of age.

Meanwhile, the National Advisory Committee on Polio Vaccine went ahead with its work on details of a voluntary system of allocations and age-group priorities.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele of the Public Health Service said the administration is sticking to its position that a voluntary system is the best way to handle the "very difficult problem."

THREE YEARS PRISON FOR THREE LIES

CHICAGO (AP)—A witness charged with telling three lies to a federal grand investigating Chicago's policy racket was convicted Monday and given a year in prison for each falsehood.

U. S. District Judge John P. Barnes sentenced Charles Kirkling, 50, to a total of three years after finding him guilty of perjury.

Federal prosecutors said they could not recall any previous case in Chicago where a witness was sentenced to prison for lying to a federal grand jury.

Kirkling, a Negro, was accused of lying to the grand jury when he testified before the body that he had not participated in policy operations since 1931; that he never was arrested in a policy raid; that he had no knowledge of any policy wheels operating in Chicago at the time he appeared before the grand jury.

Power, now on the road with a play, was said to have signed the settlement Sunday night in Boston. The papers then were flown here for Miss Christian's signature.

Recital On Viola Offers Audience Novel Experience

By JOSEPH CLELAND

The last of the faculty recitals at MacMurray College was given Sunday afternoon by Robert Glazer, violinist who was ably assisted at the piano by Dr. Ralph Robbins. This viola is a rather new sounding instrument for quite a number of people. It was a refreshing and novel experience to hear the instrument so well played in solos written or adapted for it. Mr. Glazer played with a fine lyricism and warmth. There was evidence at all times of a splendid emotional line. His playing was sincere.

The Concerto in B minor by Handel is a fine sounding work played with lots of aliveness. The slow movement "Andante ma non troppo" was particularly effective, the tone of fine quality and the phrasing sensitive.

The Brahms Sonata No. 1 in F minor is a most exciting work. It is lovely music with lots of phrases tossed about in a playful manner. The legato passages are full of sweetness and charm. The Allegretto grazioso movement came in for special appreciation.

The final group was made up of numbers more familiar to the audience. The well known "Rondino on a theme by Beethoven" by Kreisler and arranged for viola was pleasant to listen to. "La California" by the contemporary Milhaud was very intriguing and was well played. Mr. Glazer got some very nice effects in the soft and fragile "Beau Soir" by Claude Debussy. The program was brought to lively close with the nervous and excitable "Hopak" by the luty and gifted Russian Musorgsky.

In response to the enthusiastic applause of the audience Mr. Glazer and Dr. Robbins played two encores very capably. Dr. Robbins' accompaniments were at all times alert and musical.

Driver Injured As Tractor Lands On Chas. Lawson

A Roodhouse man, 32 year old Charles Lawson, escaped serious injury and possibly death Monday morning when a tractor overturned on him near Roodhouse.

The accident occurred shortly before ten o'clock on the farm of W. B. Gilmore near Roodhouse. Mr. Lawson, who is a farmer, was driving the tractor which evidently went out of control and went through a fence and into a gulley and then overturned throwing Mr. Lawson from the implement and landing on top of the driver.

The injured man was rushed to the Passavant hospital where X-rays were being taken. He was conscious and able to tell of his plight. Although not confirmed, his injuries were not believed to be critical.

On Sunday morning, May 1, young people of the First Baptist church school told of their experiences at the State Youth Congress, held in Canton the weekend of April 22-23-24. A total of 1050 young people from the Baptist churches of the state registered for the Congress. Fourteen Jacksonville young people attended, including Phyllis Strawn, Dean Crouse, Carolyn Eymann, Barbara Weems, Barbara Curtis, Donna Mason, Connie Lindsay, Joan Naylor, Lois Mathews, Neva Jo Massey, Betty Chandler, Carl Troutner, Patti Baptist, and Bob Keeler.

The officers, Miss Phyllis Strawn, Dean Crouse, Miss Patti Baptist, and Miss Connie Lindsay, gave the reports before the Church school Sunday morning. The others attending the Congress reported to the Baptist Youth Fellowship at their Sunday evening meeting. Miss Nancy Pearson of Taylorville was elected president of the state organization.

It is reported that Waldheuser was struck in the back and left side.

Early reports were to effect that neither wound had struck a vital organ, indicating that the banker's death was from injuries resulting from the wreck.

Later in the day it was determined by a medical examiner that Waldheuser sustained a broken neck and back. A physician said that death was due to the wreck injuries.

James Christison, head of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation at Springfield; representatives of the FBI, Coroner Ellis Hman, State's Attorney Clark Anderson, and the sheriff were in conference several times at various aspects of the case were gone into.
